Katy Perry's third album "Teenage Dream" alone brought in five #1 Billboard Hot 100 hits—tying her with Michael Jackson's "Bad" record for the most #1s from a single album. After five chart-topping LPs in the '10s and winning Album of the Year for "1989" in 2016, Taylor Swift was honored with Artist of the Decade at the 2019 American Music Awards.

Lady Gaga kicked off the decade as one of the world's biggest pop stars before going on to be nominated for Best Actress for "A Star Is Born" and to win Best Original Song for "Shallow" at the 2019 Oscars. After dropping a few mixtapes, The Weeknd went from an underground alternative R&B singer to full-blown pop star with his chart-topping sophomore LP "Beauty Behind the Madness" in 2015.
